

Health and Safety Policy “Better safe than sorry”

Our employees are among the best in the field and our most valuable asset. Therefore we pay special attention in all our activities to create safe and healthy working conditions in a modern and attractive working environment.

We set standards that far exceed legal requirements and detect risks and possible safety hazards before they occur. With preventive and sustainable measures we are able to minimize the risk for humans and environment and improve constantly. The whole team is working in concert to make our processes and workplaces more safe and sustainable. Our company is certified according to ISO 45001.

- Reduction of dangers

We are engaged to either avoid or find a substitute for the use of hazardous chemicals in the course of our business operations. If this is not possible we keep the use at a minimum under the best possible safety conditions.

- Continuous improvement

We undertake to constantly improve the safety at work and health protection. We evaluate regularly dangers and risks associated with our activities, check our protective measures and improve them if better technologies are available.

- Legal compliance

We ensure that IWG meets all legal requirements in respect of occupational safety and health issues.

- Awareness of employees

Our employees are trained regularly to make sure that everybody knows how and why they protect themselves and others.
